

News & Updates – February 24, 2010

Newsletter:

As the season winds down (or in the case of this year, finally gets into full swing), I have abandoned the monthly Newsletter, as time on the mountain skiing and lack of news are preventing me! We will pick it back up in the upcoming months.

Camelback:

The deadline for the Camelback trip, scheduled for the weekend of March 12-14 has arrived! Theresa must have a list of participants and deposits this weekend – no later. Please consider going, this is going to be a great event if the weather continues to cooperate, which is predicted. And getting out there with fellow club members only adds to the fun.

Club Cards:

I still have a LOT of club cards that have not been distributed. If you will need yours before the next meeting, please email me to make arrangements to pick up. As mentioned at the meeting and in the minutes, there are a ton of upcoming skier appreciation days in March and you'll need your card to take advantage of most of them. As always, you can also send me a SASE and I'd be happy to throw it in the mail for you. I must have your application on file to release your card.

Advance Purchase Lift Tix:

Tomorrow is the deadline for voucher purchases to be picked up at the March meeting. As we are heading to Vermont to take advantage of the skier appreciation days there this weekend, please do NOT delay if you are planning to order.

Blue Mountain:

We had a great day yesterday at Blue Mountain despite the rain. 15 members piled into cars and headed up bright and early to catch first lift (well, that was the plan anyway). We had people of all abilities spread out all over the mountain and the conditions on the ground, in my opinion, were perfect. Several of us gathered for lunch in the upper lodge to swap stories and decide just who was going back out and who had exhausted their dry clothing and was heading back home. All in all, I would say it was a successful trip. If you haven't been to Blue recently, it's really become a great place to ski. With less crowds and less flats than Camelback, it's a real contender. And don't forget discount lift tickets – direct to slope, are available through the club.

Skier Appreciate Days:

Visit <http://www.newjerseyskicouncil.org/DiscountsMain.html> for details on upcoming discount days. New discount retail partners have also been added since last month.

Bowling Event for April:

See the minutes for details. This has always been a popular event for the club and this time, the club is picking up at least part of the tab! Stay tuned for more details.
