

The Minutes

After much deliberation, it was decided that our meeting was to take place in the dungeon - I mean the basement. Although this one failed to be one of our most populated meetings, we did see some new faces! Eric, one of our newest members came to show his support to the BSC and boy was it worth it! Taking home 2 prizes, (including some fancy beads for the Low Fat Tuesday trip) he was the big winner of the month!

There were other great prizes to be won as well, including 2 tickets to Shawnee Mt. which were taken home by Joe Lemesevski, Sara White won some Ski Club Bono Bucks. I initially won a $25 gift certificate to Tsukasa (a sushi restaurant in town which recently got an outstanding review in the NY Times (<http://events.nytimes.com/2009/12/20/nyregion/20dinenj.html>)) but later revised my selection to opt for 2 lift tickets to Spring Mt. Also Ed Rosina won 2 Jack Frost/Big Boulder tickets!

We had a couple new announcements including an increase in our amount of Facebook friends. We have 14 more friends than last month and we seem to be becoming more and more popular!

We also had an increase in our Ski Club bank account which we will be using to have a bowling party on April 10 at Pap's Bowling Alley at which we will be having free pizza! It's BYOB, so all you will have to pay for are your tickets which are ungodly cheap and your shoes, unless you have your own like those show-offs, the Lemesevskis.

There are many skier appreciation days coming up this March! Check out the website where Theresa and Jackie have been updating the calendar on a regular basis. If you know of any more dates for skier discounts, please e-mail them to the club so that we may include them in our event calendar.

Ski for the Cure is coming up this weekend. It's a race for the cure for breast cancer and all are invited to attend whether you have been personally affected or you'd just like to show your support. It will be taking place at Jack Frost/Big Boulder and Jackie can get you a donation sheet and any more information you may need.

Lastly, anyone has any ideas for any off-season events, please bring them to next month's meeting! We will be starting planning on the off season events this March! We look forward to seeing you there!
